

Choosing Courage in Friendship

St. Pier Giorgio was fun, kind, and well-liked, but he never compromised his values to fit in.

He encouraged his friends to live well, pray, and care for others. Confirmation strengthens us to be courageous in friendship — choosing what is right even when it's uncomfortable.

Friendship Discernment Scenario

Scenario:

Your friends want you to join in something you know is wrong. They tell you it's “not a big deal” and that everyone does it.

Answer ONE question in one sentence:

What would moral courage look like in this situation, even if it risks losing approval?

Mini-Reflection (one line)

Complete the sentence:

“True friendship helps me choose _____.”

“Holy Spirit, give me courage to choose what is right in my friendships. Help me be a good friend who leads others closer to Christ.

St. Pier Giorgio Frassati, pray for me.”
